One Passenger Train Dashes Into Another.

WRECK ON THE BIG FOUR ROAD.

Nine People Killed Outright and Many Injured in a Rear End Collision Near Kankakee, Illinois Some of the Injured in a Serious Condition and No Hope of Recovery.

KANKAKEE, Ills., Sept. 20. — One-fourth of a mile south of the little village of Manteno, eight miles north of this city, the second section of No. 45, which is the Big Four express leaving Chicago at 8:10 p. m., crashed into the rear end of the first section with awful results. Nine persons, it is known positively, are dead, with a probability of three more victims still buried under the wreckage. A score of others are the wreckage. A score of others are more or less severely injured, a number of them it is thought fatally.

First section of Big Four train No. 45, drawn by Engine 935, Sam Phillips engineer, and Conductor Tyner pulled out of the Illinois Central passenger station at Twelfth street at 6:10 p. m., having a train consisting of mail, two baggagecars, smeker, two day coaches, two Pullman sleepers and a "deadhead" coach in the rear. This train was immediately followed by its second section drawn by Engine 930, Engineer Charley Ames, Cenductor Tom Eden, and followed them closely all the way down to the scene of the catastrophe. The train register at Chicago bears a and followed them closely all the way down to the scene of the catastrophe. The train register at Chicago bears a notice to all passenger trainmen that there is no water at Kankakee station, hence it became necessary for Engine 985 to stop at the watertank just south of Manteno to take a supply.

To this stop is attributed the calamity of the night. As the first section hauled up at the watertank Conductor Tyner immediately sent his rear brakeman with a red light to flag the second section, knowing that they were fellowing him closely, but before the flagman had got back 100 yards the second section could be plainly heard rapidly approaching, though hidden behind a curve in the track where a signal could not be seen. An instant later they dashed rapidly into view and seeing the frantic signals of the flagman from the first section, Engineer Ames reversed first section, Engineer Ames reversed his engine and applied the air brake.

Owing to the high speed at which the second section was running this did not seem materially to check their speed, and an instant later, with a fearful crash, Engine 980, with a force no power could resist, reduced the rear car to a shapeless mass of splintered timbers and twisted iron. The wreck of the rear car was thrown high in the air, falling back upon the engine. The terrible impact forced the forward sleeper into the rear end of the day coach just ahead. This coach was filled with sleeping passengers, and the scene which ensued was one of almost infinite horror.

The engine plowed its way literally through the bodies of sleeping men and women. Blood besmeared the iron and wood of the shattered cars and in the darkness the awful screams of the injured and dying mingled with the hiss of the steam from the torn and twisted boiler. The passengers in the rear train escaped with nothing more than a severe shaking up. Many of them dressed and hurried forward to assist in the work of rescuing the unfortunates who were still pinioned in the Several physicians were on the cars and they passed among the wounded alleviating with the few resources at their command the suffering of the wounded. Sheets and tablecloths were torn into bandages and wounds skillfully dressed while brave and kindly women ministered to their wants with coffee hastily prepared and with cups

The crash of the collision was plainly heard in Manteno and in a few minutes the residents of that village were upon the scene in force. Houses near the spot were hastily thrown open and each became an improvised hospital. Local surgeons from this city were hastily summoned and several of them, together with other residents of Kankakee hastened to Manteno. The arrivals were timely and their efforts much appreciated by the terror-stricken passengers, many of whom, otherwise uninjured, were suffering from the suddenness of the shock and going about wringing their hands and crying

The cries and means of those pinioned down by the broken timbers and twisted iron works of the shattered cars were pitiable, and the work of getting them out was attended with the utmost difficulty, so thoroughly had the engine done its work of destruction. As the labors of the relief party proceeded, dead and dying were found mingled with the sometimes unconscious bodies of those whose lives were providentially

SWEPT BY FIRE.

An Entire Town in Ruins and Hundreds of People Homeless.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 20.-Many of the inhabitants of the prosperous town of Owingsville are homeless. A fire broke out in the livery stable of Peed & Hazelrig, on Henry street.

The building with all its contents, '15 or 20 horses and a large lot of feed of all kinds, was soon consumed.

Next was the Owingsville Opinion office, an entire loss with no insurance. Then the saddle and harness shop of J. W. Hutchison, and the dental office of Dr. W. C. Nesbitt.

The wind was blowing a gale from the southwest and the fire next caught the blacksmith shop of W. W. Pierce, the coalyard of Peed & Hazelrigg, the lumberyard of H. C. Sherman & Company, then 10 or 12 houses on Water street occupied by negroes, including the Farrow hall.

The fire then leaped to the new $10,-000 Christian church or. Main street, then to L. R. Slesser's dry goods store, J. A. Ramsey's hardware place, Conner & Kimbrough's two vacant storerooms, T. Kimbrough's drug store, J. M. Richard's dry goods store, Goodpaster's bank building, R. S. Estill's drug store, and the grocery and saloon of Ed Bailey, the two latter belonging to Dr. C. W. Honaker.

These buildings are all west of the Christian church. The fire then going east, burned the dry goods store of I. Josselson, the millinery of Mrs. Lucy Hampton, the dry goods store of James Gellon and the furniture store of C. H. Hoon, and the end is not yet, as the fire is still raging, and there is no water and no organization to fight it with.

Hundreds of willing hands were compelled to stand idly by and see valuable property go up in smoke. It is impossible to state the loss on what has already burned, but it fully $150,000. There is some insurance, not enough to cover half the loss.

No one has any knowledge of how the fire originated. Those who are least able to bear the loss have no insuranco. This is the third great fire that has visited Owingsville in recent years, but this is the most destructive of all.

Burglars Caught Dead to Rights.

Walton, Ky., Sept. 20.—Two colored men and a white man were caught entering the house of Green Fields. The white man acknowledged that he entered the house, and in proof a set ring and other articles were found on him. A razor, an heirloom of the family, was found on one of the others and a set of sleeve buttons, 'Squire Curley held them over to the circuit court. The parties gave their names as Harry Beaumont, white, Harry Lee and Oscar Smith, colored.

BODIES HORRIBLY MANGLED.

An Indiana Farmer, His Wife, Mother and Two Children the Victims of an Assassin-The Awful Dord Done With a a Hatchet-Bloodhounds on the Track of the Murderers-It Is Believed Robbery Was the Motive.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept. 20.-A herrible murder was committed 10 miles southeast of this city. Densen Wratten, his wife, mother and two children were brutally murdered iu cold blood by an unknown assassin.

Densen Wrattan was a farmer in good circumstances, and with his wife, three children and his mether lived on a farm 10 miles southeast of this city.

Yesterday morning a neighbor, James E. Stone, called at the Wratten residence about 7 o'clock and found the deer open at the rear of the house and the wife of Mr. Wratten lying dead in a pool of bloed near the door.
On entering the house he found Mr.
Wratten in bed dead, with a horrible gash in the ferehead.

gash in the forehead.

The children were all lying in a big bed in the same reom. Great gashes were, found in the forehead of two, and the back of the head of the other. Two were dead and one of the children, aged 12, is still living, but unconscious.

The mother of Mr. Wratten had been sleeping in an adjeining room. In this room was a spectacle that made the blood run cold, The old lady was found lying on the floor, her head hacked to pieces, and the right hand entirely severed from the arm, while the left arm was cut nearly off in two or three pieces.

It was the most horrible and revolting massacre imaginable. The instrument used must have been a hatchet, from the size of the wounds inflicted. Not the slightest clew can be obtained as to who the perpetrators of the terrible crime are.

A large posse of citizens was organized, and the country for miles around is being scoured.

Mr. Wratten's mother had drawn a pension for a number of years, and has recently drawn from the bank some money, and it is thought that the mur-derers were bent on robbery and were caught in the act.

Old Mrs. Wratten had evidently fought a terrible battle for her life and the wife was attempting to escape, as she was found near an open door in an adjoining room to the one where she slept. Bloodhounds were brought here from Seymour and put on the trail.

There is some hopo of Ethel, aged 12 years, living, and if she survives she may be able to give some clew to the

SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE.

The I. O. O. F. of the World in Session at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 20.—The first session of the sovereign grand lodge of the werld of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was called to order by the grand sire, Dr. C. P. Campbell of London, Ont. The roll was called by Theodore Ross of Baltimore, the grand secretary, and representatives of every jurisdiction answered to their names.

The secretary's report showed a decided increase in the membership of the order since the last biennial conven-

After the formal proceedings, the sovereign grand lodge adjourned to take part in the parade, which moved over the principal streets at noon. This event was of significance to the order, from the fact that the lodges of the uniformed Patriarchal Circle acted as escort. The Patriarchal Circle was organized in this city by members of the order who afterward withdrew from the organization proper, as a result of dissensions regarding the establishment of a uniformed rank. The streets were crowded. There was a big display of decorations, and the parade was a pronoanced success.

The next Sovereign grand lodge meet ing will be held at Chattanooga in Shoe has Wife. LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 20.—Thomas Shay, a prominent farmer, aged 30 years, of Hutchlson, eight miles from Lexington, was fatally shot by John Dilloway, a jealous youth of 15 years. Shay was out driving with a young woman to whom Dilloway was devoted. The boy followed, and climbing into the rear of the buggy he listened to the conversation of the couple until he became maddened with jealousy. When the buggy stopped he accosted Shay and shot him before the excited object of his affectious. The ball entered Shay's groin, and he will die. Dilloway is under arrest.

Ex-President Polk's Remains.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 20.—With simple but solemn ceremonies the remains of Knox Polk, 10th president of the United States, and those of his wife. Mrs. Sach Childers Polk, were removed from the tomb at Polk Place, the old family residence in this city, to a picturesque spot in the state capitol grounds and there reinterred. The services at Polk Place and Capitol Hill were very impressive, and the occasion was observed with due honor and respect by the state, the city, the church and the public. FEDERAL ELECTION BILL.

Democrats Determined to Push the Repeal Measure Through Congress.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The caucus of Democratic members of the house was brief and to the point. Representative Holman presided and Representative Alderson acted as secretary. There was a full attendance of the Democrats who had been present during the pro-ceedings in the house and the action taken, it was reported, had the hearty and unanimous concurrence of all whe participated. Speaker Crisp effered the fellowing resolution:

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of this caucus that it is the duty of every Democratic member to attend the sessions of the house in order that the public business may be considered and disposed of.

He supported his motion in an earnest speech, peinting out the necessity that existed for Democratic representatives doing their full duty to their country and to their party, and henestly endeavoring to redeem the pledges made to the people who had entrusted them with the duty of legislating in their behalf.

Mr. Enloe of Tennessee moved to amend by adding "and vote" after the words "sessions of the house," which were accepted by the speaker.

Mr. Fithian of Illineis moved to add the fellowing to the speaker's resolution, and the caucus agreed:

"And, that when the house meets it is the sense of this cancus that it remain in session continuously until a quorum is obtained voting in favor of the bills for the repeal of the federal election laws.

There was some discussion as to the expediency of pressing the considera-tion of the repeal bills, and the overwhelming sentiment of the caucus expressed was favorable to early action. The following resolution, offered by Mr. McMillin of Tennessee, on this point was adopted:

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of this caucus that the house should proceed at the earliest practicable day during this ses sion to the consideration of the bill or bills repealing the laws authorizing deputy marshals and supervisors of elections at the polls.

After adopting the resolutions as a whole, the caucus adjourned, having been in session but little over an hour Subsequently, in pursuance to the last resolution, Speaker Crisp issued a call for a meeting of the committee on rules to consider the fixing of a date for taking up the repeal bills and determining the length of time that shall be allowed for debate. Speaking of the probabilities of the length of the continuous session agreed upon. Speaker Crisp said he did not leok for anything extraordinary or un-comfortable. "After we get a quorum the Republicans can not detain the house any great length of time. They may keep us until 7 or 8 o'clock, but we'll drive the report through as soon

SENATE AND HOUSE.

But Little Done in Either Branch Cougress. Washington, Sept. 20.—For the third time since the repeal bill has been before the Senate, the senator in charge of it, Mr. Voorhees (Dem., Ind.) made an effort to have the opposition fix some time when debate ought to be closed and the vote taken; and for the third time the proposition met with unfavorable resistence. As on the first occasion, Mr. Dubois (Rep., Ida.) acted as spokesman for the opposition; but he was seconded and sustained by Mr. Teller (Rep., Col.) who stated that he knew of 15 senators who still desired to address the senate, and of whom 18 had not yet opened their mouths on the subject; and he added that until all senators who desired to speak had an opportunity of doing so, no vote be, or would be taken.

Mr. Voorhees, in view of the attitude of the opposition, gave notice that he would ask the senate to have not continuous, but lengthened sessions; and he was informed that his program would not be resisted, but that the friends of the bill as well as its enemies would be expected to be present. After a spirited speech by Mr. (Mills Dem., Tex.) in favor of the bill and by Mr. Stewart (Rep., Nev.) against it the senate at 5:15 adjourned.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Although Colonel Ike Hill, the Democratic whip, reported 185 Democratic representatives in the city at 10 o'clock, 17 more than a quorum in the house, there were but 173 of them present on the floor at any one time during the day and the ma jority again found themselves powerless to make any progress with the bill to repeal the federal election laws. Mr. Fitch returned from New York and re lieved Mr. Tucker on the floor as the leader of the Democratic hosts. At 2:45 o'clock, after vainly endeavoring to secure a call of the committee and the introduction of the report on the repeal bill. Mr. Fitch moved an adjourn-ment, which was agreed to without dis-

THE CROP BULLETIN.

Reports Made to the Weather Bureau at Washington.

RAIN VERY BADLY NEEDED.

Extensive Areas Over Which There Has Been No Rainfall During the Past Week-The Rain of Two Weeks Ago Has Had a Beneficial Effect-The Reports From Each Different State.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The weekly crop report of the weather bureau contains the fellowing: Except in the northwestern border of the states, but little rain fell during the week to the west of the Mississippi, and as during the previous week there are extensive areas over which there has been ne rain whatever.

In the Ohio valley and Atlantic coast states rains of the preceding week have greatly improved pastures, and have put the greund in good condition for fall plowing, which is pregressing rapidly in the states named, fall seeding being about completed in New Jersey and New York. and New York. In nerthern Wiscensin, Misseuri, Arkansas and Nebraska but little fall plowing has yet been dene owing to the dry and baked condition of the ground and baked condition of the ground, and seeding is delayed in consequence.

Maryland—Hense tobacce slightly injured by warm weather early in week; pastures and vegetables greatly improved; cern cutting has progressed rapidly.

Virginia—Tobacco and fedder was damaged by continued heavy rains: pastures improved.

North Carolina—Heavy rains injured crops and prevented farmwork; tebacco taking second growth; weather since Thursday good; a week of sunshine will greatly improve outlook.

South Carolina—No improvement in crops; cotton is rotting, bolls opening prematurely, packing progressing slowly; corn, on lowlands damaged by freshets, and in uplands by continued rains; turnips dying; pea vines, hav and rice poer; rice is sprouting in the stock; potatoes beginning to rot.

Florida—Warmer sunny days, following the heavy rains, benefited crops generally, and especially cotton.

Alabama—Rains first part of the week very injurious; cotton beaning out, causing sprouting in the bales, this continues favorable for all other crops and gardens.

Mississippi—Warm days and cool nights, favorable to cotton, but does not effect last week's rain and continued ravages of worms; picking uninter-rnpted, corn mostly gathered; ordinary crops, turnips, peas and potatoes good; pastures improved.

Louisiana—Hot, dry, sunshiny week favorable to cane, which has improved, showing but little damage of late storm; rice harvesting continues; corn and cotton being gathered rapidly; cotton will be short, and picking generally completed by Nov. 1. Drouth continues in northwest, where all crops, conditions and pasturage are unfavor-

Texas-Drowth severe, except over the east coast; cotton is opening and being rapidly picked, that planted late is opening prematurely; no chance for top crep in many parts of state, as the plant is dying; the yield is as weak as generally reported and is about one-third of a bale.

Arkansas—Exceedingly hot weather has interfered with cotton picking, and together with the drouth has prevented fall plewing and been injurious to all growing crops except cotton, which is too far advanced to be benefitted by rain; cotton opening rapidly and picking becoming general; crop will be much short of an average.

Tennessee-Tobacco good in northeast; in middle and north it is making new growth; crop will be good if not injured by early frost; rains damaged some cotton; Irish potatoes, turnips and pastures improving.

Kentucky—Badly distributed rains first part of the week of great benefit to late tobacco, pastures and gardens; cutting of corn and fall plowing progressing.

Missouri-Little plowing or seeding done yet; corn practically safe from frost, but maturing too rapidly.
Illinois—Rainfall badly distributed; frost in Jo Davies and Dupage counties on the 18th inst.; corn generally safe from frost and is maturing rapidly, much being cut; plowing and seeding progressing in the sonthern portion, elsewhere re'arded; rain badly needed. Indiana-Excessive rams and high temperature caused pasturage to re-over and put the fields in good condition for plowing and wheat seeding.

which is progressing rapidly; much corn is in shock; the rest nearly safe from heavy frost ... West Virginia-Weather beneficial to pastures, mendows and sewn wheat; corn doing much better; tobacco growing nicely, some cut; cattle improving;

sheep in excellent condition. Ohio-Rains started vegetation and advanced fall plowing; seeding over in many counties and others still retarded by drouth; corn cutting well advanced; buckwheat, turnips and millet improved; early sown wheat coming up.

Oil House Hurned.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 20.—The oil house of the Consolidated Tank Line company of Cincinnati caught fire hero and was soon surrounded with flames that could not be controlled. Three terrific explosions occurred before the fire department could reach the scene. fire department could reach the scene. All that could be done was to prevent the flames from spreading. The fire was so great that it spread to the Big Four track, but the department saved the company's property and prevented the explosion of the company's large oil tanks some distance away. Loss estimated at $6,000.

SENATOR LINDSAY'S SPEECH.

The Washington correspondent of the Atlanta Journal sends the following special to that paper: "A big smoothfaced, boyish looking man with white hair trousled over his forehead, is making a great speech in the Senate to-day. It is a thing that is unprecedented and does not conform with the traditions of the dignified chamber. The Senator who is doing all this is Mr. Lindsay, of Kentucky, a new member of the body. He has a voice like a deep-chested church organ, and is denouncing the Sherman act as the work of the gold bugs and Wall street thieves, and declaring three years ago it demonetized silver. He literally riddled Vance and Pugh for their late speeches and has set Morgan, Vest, Cockrell, Coke, Call and Jones to reading the records, denouncing the measure they are now supporting. To say that Mr. Lindsay's speech is creating a sensation is putting it mildly. His defense of Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Carlisle is strong and manly, and puts the onus of nonlegislation plainly upon those who have put their own interpretation upon the President's words, not based upon anything Mr. Cleveland has said or forborne to say."

APPOINTMENTS

Of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South.

The Seventy-Third Session Closed at Noon Yesterday in Peace and Harmony.

The seventy-third session of the Kentucky Annual Conference of the Methotucky Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, South, convened in this city last Wednesday at 9 a.m. and closed at noon vesterday. The gathering brought considerably over 200 strangers here, and in his closing remarks Bishop Galloway said that for the eight years he had been in efficiently never a conference to in office he never knew a conference to receive as hearty welcome and royal entertainment as this conference received from the people of Maysville.

During the session all denominational lines were forgotten and our citizens were all Methodists while the conference was with us. was with us.

The session just closed was instructive, pleasant and harmonious, and will, no doubt, greatly benefit the local church as well as the church at large.

Bishop C. B. Galloway will carry with him wherever he may be called or sent the good will and affection of all who met saw or heard him.

met, saw or heard him.

The local officers and members of the M. E. Church, South, and their pastor, Rev. C. J. Nugent, were untiring in the discharge of their very onerous duties in receiving and providing for the visitors and looking to their comfort and pleasure

A great deal of routine business was transacted in the closing hours of the session, but it was easy to see that the delegates and audience were applicable.

delegates and audience were anxious to reach the final business called up by Disciplinary question 35, "Where are the preachers stationed this year?"

Until the bishop reads out the appointments all are in deepest doubt where they may be sent, hence the anxiety to hear the list read out.

Bishop Galloway thinks that the Methodist plan of stationing preachers is the best that has ever been devised, and gives the greatest good to the greatest number.

The fire then leaped to the new $10,000 Christian Church on Main street, then to L. R. Slesser's dry good store, J. A. Ramsey's hardware piace, Cenner & Kimbrough's two vacant storerooms, J. T. Kimbrough's drug stere, J. M. Richard's dry goods store, Goodpaster's bank building, R. S. Estill's drug store, and the grocery and saloon of Ed. Balley, the two latter belonging to Dr. C. W. Henaker.

These buildings are all west of the Christian Church. The fire then going east, burned the dry good store of I. Josselson, the millinery of Mrs. Lucy Hampton, the dry goods store of James Gellon and the furniture store of C. H. Hoen. There was no water and no organization to fight the fire with.

GETTING THE MONEY BACK. The Michigan Train Robbers Did Not

Profit Much by Their Scheme. HANCOCK, Mich., Sept. 20.—All but $400 of the $70,000 stolen from the Mineral Range railroad on Friday last has been recovered at Marquette. Liberte had taken it out of the trunk and disposed of it as he thought to his satisfaction. The money went through both Hancock a: 1 Houghton behind the pacer Champ k., that King was driving and was left at Cobellie's saloon in East Houghton where Liberte boarded.

Fair weather; siightly cooler, except stationary temperature on Lake Erie; northwest winds.

The trunk that the money was put in belonged to Mrs. Jack Chillew, but as she was in custody it could not be shipped in her name, and it was consigned to Martin Cannon at Marquette. Liberte left on the same train with the trunk. He opened it at Marquette and earried the money to Shea's saloo., where a goodly portion was discovered. There are under arrest now several persons at Marquette besides Liberte, and seven here and three more arrests are expected to follow.

It is impossible to interview the prisoners because the officials do not wish the public to know the state of affairs. It is now claimed that the robbery was planned at Frankie McDonald's disreputable dive at Houghton and that Butler was the originator and engineer of the hold-up. It is said that Butler is wanted at Memphis. All of the prison-ers with exception of Butler show signs of weakening. The examination of the prisoners was postponed until Friday.
